Dear Sir,

Dr. Jennie Colman was well known to me as my House Surgeon at West Hill Hospital from February 1st to July 31st, 1986. She came to me with a strong recommendation from Mr. Leonard Cotton, MCh., F.R.C.S., F.K.C., Dean of Kings College Hospital Medical School and Senior Surgeon at Kings College Hospital. She established herself as a very good and conscientious House Surgeon, getting on very well with my patients, and particularly well with the hospital nurses. She kept extremely good notes, and prepared patients for operation to my entire satisfaction. She took up a career in Medicine rather later in life than is usual, and her more mature approach to patients was very welcome. At no time did I have the slightest hesitation in certifying that she had achieved the standard required for recognition of her pre-registration appointment to West Hill Hospital.

Yours faithfully,

N. A. Stephens, F.R.C.S.,
Consultant Surgeon.
